"Most Dubai businesses spend AED 200,000+ hiring someone to manage their content. Then they get 5 posts a month and a resignation letter in 8 months."

We built a different model. One studio session at DPS = 8 pieces of content, automatically produced and delivered within 24 hours. No visa. No equipment. No notice period. Swipe to see the actual numbers →

Headline Shown below the carousel image

Option A (numbers-first): "AED 137 per content piece. Not AED 2,249."

Option B (question): "Is your content team worth AED 215,000 a year?"

Option C (direct): "The math on hiring vs. DPS — swipe before you decide."

A/B test Options A and B first — run each for 5 days with AED 50/day before scaling the winner.

Description Shown under the headline on some placements

"Dubai Podcast Studio · Business Bay · 7 Studios · Book by the hour or the month."

Why this converts in October 2026: Q4 is when SME owners make staffing decisions for the coming year — HR budgets are reviewed, headcount approved or frozen. This ad intercepts the hire intent at the exact moment it exists and reframes the decision as a financial one, not a creative one. Numbers-only creatives have the highest share rate on Meta among business audiences — people tag their business partners, forward to finance directors, save for reference. The "cost per content piece" comparison (AED 137 vs AED 2,249) is the number that makes the carousel screenshot-worthy. The CTA is a conversation, not a demo — "20-minute call" removes the fear of being sold to, which is the primary objection in this audience segment. Carousel format earns 3–5 additional swipes of attention after the first card, meaning the argument has time to land before the decision.
